STATINT [REDACTED] had received pay on Jan 24, 1947 for the last period for which pay was due -- 29 Dec 46 to 11 Jan 47; that nothing was due her in salary; that papers concerning her Civil Service Retirement and war bond payments had been delayed, due to her refusal to sign the usual statement that she had no Government property in her possession; but that these papers concerning her account would nevertheless be forwarded to the Civil Service Commission within the next ten days. Explained to Mrs. Housel that no salary had been withheld, that [REDACTED] claim of an amount withheld was apparently due to some confusion over the staggered pay system, involving two weeks' delay, and that all this had been explained to [REDACTED]. Also relayed to Mrs. Housel [REDACTED] statement that if [REDACTED] wished to come in, he would be glad to answer any questions she had. Mrs. Housel was extremely pleasant and understanding, indicating that she realized [REDACTED] had been both persistent and difficult.

7. Talked with Mr. McCormack of the staff of the House Civil Service Committee regarding his acquisition of CIG personnel figures for Committee's monthly government report to the Congress. Mr. McCormack refused to concede that he had our personnel figures and to reveal the source of his information. However, he gave every indication that the Committee did possess a set of figures and that they had been secured without a breach of our security. McCormack indicated that these figures could be deduced from certain Government reports which totaled all employment figures, together with his own figures, the difference being the CIG roster. The Committee has determined not to report CIG figures to the Congress at this time. There was some indication that the report on which the CIG figure could be based was a Treasury report, and further indications are that the figures may have come from the War Department.
